No Panic Here. A well-known Washington real estate man on his return today from a business trip to Pittsburgh is strongly of the opinion that business conditions here are in a very much better state sion in the Meeker coal rate case, and than in the Smoky City, where money is always supposed to be easy.

The Washington man went to Pittsburgh to sell a piece of Pennsylvania avenue property for a Washington client. He found that he could not get an offer for even half of its value nor a loan for a third of its value. Asking the cause of his Pittsburgh agent, the Washington man was told that Pittsburgh was "In a panic," and money very tight. very tight.

Further Reductions Are Predicted With Coming of Hot Weather.

retail price of best qualities of buter, with corresponding reductions on other grades, is quoted by most dealers in Washington this morning. Best butter is worth 35 cents per pound.

This reduction, which has been overdue for some time, dealers say, followed a drop of 2 cents per pound in the wholesale price, set by the Elgin Butter Board today. It has been expected for several weeks, but has been delayed on account of the extra short supply of butter in cold storage, and the high price of feed for dairy herds, prior to the coming of spring pastures.
Other reductions in the price will follow with the coming of hot weather, dealers say. There is a good grade of fresh country butter now being offered along farmers' row in the public markets, which ranges from 23 cents to 25 cents per pound.

The egg market holds firm at 25 cepts per dozen retail, 20 cents per dozen wholesale being asked. The demand now is heavy for storage eggs, so that eggs probably will not go a great dealer cheaper for several weeks, at least.
